Padlet Time!

- ▶ In this icebreaker game, the goal is to learn smth about each participant.
- ▶ Click on the link in the chat box, then you will see the Padlet Site.
- ▶ Click on the + sign in your right corner to write your name, country and one word or upload a photo which describes your personality.

Roll the dice, make a story!

- ▶ Participants are divided into groups (4-5 people)
- ▶ They take turns rolling their dice to create a story. Each participant must create a sentence based on the illustration on the faces of the dice he/she gets. Then the next participant goes.
- ▶ You can buy story cubes online. They are relatively cheap and stored in a convenient portable box which contains 9 dice and is small enough to just place it in your pocket. Anyhow, when using storydice in class, the students respond positively and create some very engaging and funny activities.

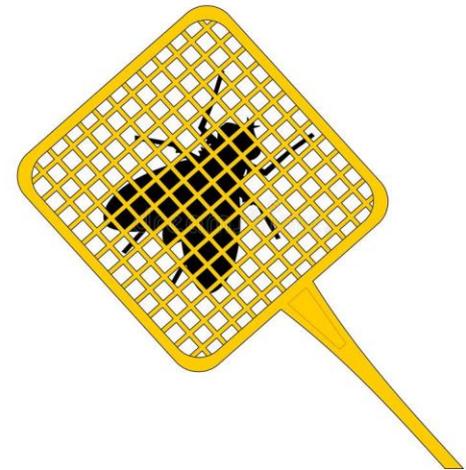

Paper Fan

- ▶ Participants work in a group (4-5 people)
- ▶ Every participant writes the answer regarding the teacher's question, folds the paper and passes it to the next member of the group. Nobody sees the others' answers.
- ▶ At the end, they fold out the paper and read the story.
- ▶ Questions:

Killing the Fly!

- ▶ Participants are divided into two large groups. They stand in two rows (relay race)
- ▶ The first two opponents have the fly swatter swaps and try to answer the teacher's question by killing the fly!

Spin the Wheel!

It is a very amusing activity for practicing tenses, but you can use it for something else, too, just click on <https://wheelofnames.com/> and create your game.

► Questions:

- ❖ What do you usually do at the weekend?
- ❖ What were you doing yesterday when I phoned you?
- ❖ What are you doing today?
- ❖ What did you do last week?
- ❖ What will you do tomorrow?
- ❖ What have you done recently?
- ❖ What had you done before I saw you?

The Pizza Game!

This activity can be used for all age levels, different grammar structures, recycling vocabulary and speaking.

- ▶ Brainstorm e.g. free time activities.
- ▶ Practice the target language (a few times)
- ▶ Divide Ss into small groups and let them draw a circle on a piece of paper, dividing it into eight parts (a pizza shape).
- ▶ Give your Ss a couple of minutes to write a key sentence into each slice of pizza.
- ▶ Have the Ss assign points to the eight slices of pizza.
- ▶ Each group gets a clip and bends it to use it as a marker of a slice.
- ▶ Ss have approx. 10 min to spin the wheel and take turns forming sentences. The winner is the S with the highest score.

Chat Box Time!

- ▶ Which activity do you find useful and interesting?
- ▶ Can you apply it in your classroom?
- ▶ Is there anything you would like to change in a certain activity?
